We knew there was more to this story than the media was originally letting on.

TERROR STRIKES NASHVILLE — BREAKING UPDATE: Nashville Bomber Secretly Signed his House Deed Over to a Complete Stranger FOR FREE Exactly One Month Before Detonating Massive Bomb in Downtown Nashville!
https://redpilled.ca/terror-strikes-nashville-breaking-update-nashville-bomber-secretly-signed-his-house-deed-over-to-a-complete-stranger-for-free-exactly-one-month-before-detonating-massive-bomb-in-downtown-na/

>The Daily Mail broke an exclusive story today revealing that the 63-year-old suicide bomber felon secretly signed over his $130,000 Tennessee home to a 29-year-old stranger in Los Angeles for $0.00 in a one page, two sentence “quit claim deed” exactly one month before he perpetrated the heinous attack in downtown Nashville.
>According to the Daily Mail report, “[the recipient’s] signature does not appear on the November 25th transfer and she told DailyMail.com she knew absolutely nothing about it,” raising further questions about motive concerning the suspicious attack.
>The seemingly official document, apparently stamped by the State of Tennessee, contains numerous errors and inconsistencies, further giving credence to the mysterious lack of explanations to questions pertaining to the attack.
>For example, in the supposedly legally binding document, the price is redundantly written “$0.00 Dollars”, with a dollar sign before the figure and the word “Dollars” following the figure. Additionally, the suspect in the bombing and the “Grantor” in the deed claim is referred to as both “Anthony Q. Warner” — with a period after the Q — and “Anthony Q Warner” — with no period following the Q initial — further legitimizing the demand for answers on this story by the public.

What the hell is going on here? Why aren’t we allowed to ask any questions? And most importantly…

What is Mayor Cooper hiding?!

>It's now revealed through public records that Michelle Swing, who now lives in Los Angeles, used to live on Warner's street in Nashville, Bakertown Road on ANOTHER property he gave her. In the quitclaim deed associated with this transaction, Anthony Warner is listed as previously acquiring the house from his father, Charles Warner, and given to Swing on January 31st, 2019.
>Public records further reveal Swing actually lived in this residence for a period of time before quitclaiming it off to someone else, rather than just acquiring the property without previous knowledge as she claims is true this time. She even signed this one.

>The bomber blew up Nashville's AT&T center hitting off all phone companies across the country.

Why would such a figure give away all of his inherited properties to a young Asian woman then perpetrate such an abominable attack on the public? Why is the mayor so happy about it all? Why did the FBI ignore numerous accurate notices tipping them off about the imminent attack?

Moments after the deadly incident occurred, the corrupt Democrat mayor John Cooper of Nashville appeared on the scene eerily quickly with a local TV station for an interview. The mayor was cackling like an evil mastermind throughout the whole interview. He even issued a thinly-veiled threat, saying “I hope this is the only explosion to happen in Nashville today.”

We have the video: https://redpilled.ca/terror-strikes-nashville-evil-nashville-mayor-repeatedly-cackles-with-a-huge-grin-on-his-face-while-discussing-massive-deadly-christmas-blast-occurring-seconds-after-ominous-if-you-can-hear-this-e/

Here are some stills taken from the interview in which Mayor Cooper can be seen killing himself laughing over and over with an evil ear-to-ear grin across his face as he was being asked how a terrorist attack was able to occur on one of the most highly secure days of the year in one of the nation’s biggest cities.

Now, amateur videos released on social media tell a different story and offer more prespective.

A wider shot of the scene, from a camera not blinded by the light, shows an apparent drone strike sending a missile directly into the AT&T headquarters across the street from the RV. Obviously, the vehicle was completely destroyed in the strike, but it is clear from the following video that the RV did not detonate any explosives.

I mentioned in the previous thread that Folks like this asian female will go to countries like the Philipenes and advertise as a talent scout for modeling and dancing, then, they will get the young women on a boat, take their passports "for safe keeping", and sell the girls as sex slaves. There are street after street of bars in S.Korea, outside of every military base, where these girls are forced to work... She is essentially a Gislane Maxwell, of which there are many.

...AND YET...
Soldiers 'fall in love' with these imprisoned girls constantly. They claim that the girls are not just using them for money to "buy their contract" so they can get back home, because she gave him a free ride. One SGT in my unit actually did buy the contract, went AWOL to take this one home to the Philipenes, and was promptly beaten to shit and ejected by all of her male relatives. He had to call the Army and get them to negotiate his safe return.... A fucking tragicomedy.

>What I'm saying though, is that dudes get lead to their deaths, or worse, the deaths of others, all the time by a little kissy kissy I promise horseshit. and the sex trade industry around military bases is too fucking valuable to stop at a few minutes for a few bucks.
There were also Russian drinky girl clubs. I'm not sure what their gig is though, but I highly doubt that they are up to good, clean, prostitution.

...gonna save that pic and pretend to believe I'll finish reading it later.
...My thoughts on the white smoke were that the important shits were already melted down to slag inside, from the use of thermite grenades, or some other thermite shits... TGs emit a lot of white smoke. The cover show for the cameras coming afterwards and blowing a small hole in the wall, simply poofed it out of there. This was my rationalization for how the entire building was an empty, collapsed husk for the pictures taken the next day.

Dude was mentioning Chlorates... Of which every YT chemistry chan has videos of. Most even warn about how dangerous they are. All of them give you an approximation of how the process scales. If this guy produced enough to make damage from across the street, then wherever he was doing it would have many complaints of smelling like bleach, because he would have to have had a fucking massive operation dedicated to it... Granted, I've only watched a couple of the videos, because I just want to refine circuit boards and junk jewelry into bars of metal, and so I don't know precisely how much of the stuff he would need, but one video showed about a firecracker-sized piece doing about a hearty firecracker's amount of loud. I don't know, man... It seems like he would have gotten started, realized that he was pissing up a rather tall tree with that route, and go find a more effective way to do the same... But that's assuming that this guy actually did fuck-all and wasn't just a patsy, which is historically much more probable.

Got a link to the video with the bottom picture?
I've seen the two videos the other pictures are from, and I'm not sure the timing of the smoke plume in the first picture is consistent with an airstrike. That said, I know nothing about airstrikes.
It's just that several seconds pass between the appearance of the small plume, and the huge smoke cloud afterward. Which isn't consistent with a strike that goes off on immediate contact with the ground.

Or ketchup and mustard, you non-hungry motherfucker.
Red is an unsecured line. Generally facing the world. Yellow used to be a crossover cable (from going straight from one computer to another, without a hub to do the crossing over), but modern networking gear has built-in detection for send and receive, and crosses over on its own. Perhaps it's like Orange, or a server-to-server AKA: DMZ connection.

Ok ill summarise. Basically the 7th day adventist church has been predicting a fireball in Nashville since a dream they had in 1904. That church (future for america) were saying it would happen on July 18th 2020. The links are the newsletter from May 2020 on their website.

Be interesting if he had any connections to 7th day Adventists

It was a joke because he not from Norway. Also you need to learn about soil organics before you talk. Fertilizer doesn’t do much to amend soil as it helps add nutrients to the plants most fertilizer washes out of soil. You help amend the soil by crop rotation not growing monoculture and pushing livestock across old ground

Why is it that people latch on to joke comments the tightest... Though, ifabitch scammed me out of 2 houses, I might just have a bit of crime of passion on my mind too... But it is not a crime of passion to go attack a telephone switching building that doesn't even have an outward presentation to get pissed at. I mean, he would need to do a drive-by at a Dairy Queen or something similar to make that angle remotely legit. Also, the fucker ran a business and owned two houses. That sounds like a gold-digger target, but not really a femdom-scam-matchup that reached its conclusion, unless the guy was just so fucking mixed up that committing a life-ending crime was part of it. It's possible, but then, that would make her an accomplice that ordered him to goat fuck that particular building... Which only makes this even more interesting.

Alright, let's for a second pretend this is legit. An evacuation message reversed asks us if we're having a merry christmas. However it could also be interpreted in reverse. Meaning that once it asks us about Christmas, it has acknowledged that it was talking to us. In which case, the evac warning could be viewed as a warning for all of us here on /pol. Is someone trying to tell us to get off /pol? if they're trying to threaten and scare us, I don't think it will work.
